CHARLES-TOWN, FEBRUARY 14.

LAST Friday arrived here, the Ship Tiger, Captain George Johnston, from Porto-Rico, where he lay from the 5th to the 19th of last Month, delivering a Cargo of Provisions from Philadelphia, and was treated not in a savage, but the most friendly Manner, by the Spaniards. This is the Ship that, in a Paper of the 5th Instant, was said would, with her whole Cargo, have been seized, had she arrived at Porto-Rico. Captain Johnston confirms the Account inserted in this Paper of the 31st past, of the Arrival of two Regiments there from Spain, the Middle of December, and the then State of the Military on that Island; and adds, that they were using the utmost Diligence to put the whole Island into the best State of Defence, being under very great Apprehensions of an Attack from the English: But he knows nothing of the extraordinary Armament, &c. mentioned in a St. Christopher's Paper of the 16th of last Month.

In Consequence of Orders lately transmitted, all the French and Spanish Settlements in the West-Indies are putting into the best Posture of Defence, and their Garrisons augmented: But we cannot learn, from any Circumstances, that either the French or Spaniards, have made any Preparations that seem to indicate offensive Operations.

From the Jamaica Gazette of the 19th of January last. "Yesterday [at Kingston] about Noon was exhibited along our principal Streets, AARON JOSEPHS, TARRED and FEATHERED, so as to make a most ludicrous Figure. He had been taken into Custody a few Days before, upon Suspicion of buying stolen Goods from Negroes, upon his Examination, none but Negro Evidence appearing against him, he was discharged: But a Number of People, being well satisfied of his Guilt, treated him in the Manner above described, that he might not go unpunished—an Example highly necessary in this Town, where Robberies are so frequent, owing to the Encouragement given to the Negroes by a Set of such Villains."

Many alarming Reports have been spread this Week, of bad News from the Cherokees; that their Disposition appeared unfriendly; and that the Traders among them were frightened, &c. but, there are so many interested in the Credit such Reports may gain, and it is so difficult to discover from what Quarter they originate, that we think it prudent to avoid saying any Thing more at present.

On Tuesday the 5th Instant, the following Horses started for the SUBSCRIPTION-PLATE, at New-Market Course, carrying Weight for Age; and came in, viz.

BENJAMIN WARING, Esq's Bay Horse, Homespun , got by Pharash , 3 Years old,	1	1

JOHN AINSIE, Esq's black English Horse Lefty , aged,	3	dr.
WILLIAM HENRY DRAYTON, Esq's roan Horse Adolphus , got by Brutus , aged,	dist.
And on Wednesday the 6th, the COLT'S PLATE was run for, and won by SAMUEL ELLIOTT, Esq's bay Colt, got by Barrock Billy , four Years old,
JONAH ATCHISON, Esq's bay Colt, Hawke , three Years old,	2	3

CHARLES-TOWN, FEBRUARY 21.

ON Friday last arrived here His Majesty's Packet-Boat the Eagle, commanded by Capt. William Nicholls, in Eight Weeks from Falmouth; by which Advice is received, that His Excellency the Right Honourable Lord CHARLES GREVILLE MONTAGU, our Governor in Chief, &c. may soon be expected to return to this Province.

We hear that His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to appoint Capt. Henry Reeves, Harbour-Master for this Port—an Officer which daily Experience shows the Want of; but no Act of the General Assembly has yet been passed, ascertaining his Power, Duty, or Fees.

Although the Lands in East-Florida are not in general good, except at the Musquits, (now called Smyrna) where Doctor Turnbull has settled his Greeks, and some Parts of St. John's River, yet we are assured, that a Gentleman who went thither from this Province, having planted an Half Acre of Canes, has made some Sugar and a Head of Rum therefrom last Year; and that a Sugar Work is intended to be established there this Year, on Account of Mr. Oswald of London.

Last Monday died, much regretted, Mr. ELISHA POINSETT, aged 60 Years. He was Clerk to the Vestry, and Register, of St. Philip's Parish, Clerk to the Commissioners of the Fortifications, and alld of the Streets, and a most serviceable Man in many other public Employments, the Duties whereof he discharged with as much Reputation, as he did those of private Life, which renders his Death a Loss to the Public, as well as to his Widow and Children.

Last Sunday died, much lamented, Mrs. ELIZABETH BAKER, the Wife of RICHARD-BONUM BAKER, Esq; whose Loss, on Account of her valuable Accomplishments and happy Disposition, cannot be repaired to her mourning Family.

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to respite the Execution of Joseph Jordan, Edmund James, and Thomas Dannahill, (who were, at the last Assizes, sentenced to be hanged last Friday) till Friday the 1st of March next.

L O N D O N, D E C E M B E R 13.

IN the course of this present session of parliament, a petition of a very extraordinary nature, is certainly intended to be presented to the House of Commons by a popular gentleman who has been refused his seat in the said House.

A certain board has for some time past refused granting protections, but it is a known fact, that they are paid for daily.—Another species of oppression.

It is assured in a very confident manner, at the West end of the town, that the superintendence of American affairs were lately offered to the Duke of Grafton, which his Grace declined accepting.

D E C E M B E R 15.

We hear a day will soon be fixed when the questions lately proposed by Lord Camden, will be answered by Lord Mansfield. There is a strong report that most of the Privy-Council are now for a war, and that it is particularly enforced by Lord North.

Lord North, it is said, has openly declared himself in Council—for war.

A late Secretary of State resigned, in his own words, "to suffer his head from an approaching storm."

D E C E M B E R 20.

We are well informed, that Lord North declared on Sunday night last, at a ministerial meeting in Bloomsbury-square, that "war was inevitable."

It is but too glaring a truth, that out of 90 ships of peace in Portsmouth harbour, and at Spithead, seven only are fit to face the enemy.

There are letters by the St. George, Capt. Weare, who arrived at Dover last Monday, from Cadix, that the Spaniards have augmented their land forces to 100,000 men; that their navy is on a better footing than it has been for some years; and that all their troops are well disciplined, and had been taught the Prussian exercise.

The genteel behaviour and extreme politeness of a certain foreign representative, has already engaged the admiration and esteem of many of our first ladies of quality at the Court end of the town; to whose all powerful influence, we are told, this nation is not a little indebted, for the benefit of those pacific measures now on the carpet between the two contending powers.

It is said, that the order for an augmentation in Ireland, will be suspended, till the parliament of that kingdom meets.

The great debate on re-establishing the Power of Juries on the solid basis of the constitution, are to be resumed in the Upper Assembly among the first business after the holidays, it having been postponed at present only for want of time. The Lords Chatham, Shelburne, and Camden, particularly the two latter, pledged their lives and fortunes to that assembly, that they would enter the lists against the Chief-Justice, on the subject of Juries; and accordingly had him prepare.

Lord Grenville, it is thought, will be deprived of his office at the Board of Trade, in a few days, in consequence of his late conduct.

D E C E M B E R 21.

Both Houses of Parliament are adjourned to Tuesday, January the twenty second.

The plan of the Ministers is said to be, to continue negotiating till the spring, and then to go to war.

We are assured, that the Ministry are positively determined; and that we are now at the eve of a war—or an accommodation.

Sunday night, the right honourable Lord Townsend, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, arrived in town.

We hear, a certain Great Man, has been formally expelled the British society, in Dublin.

It will not be absolutely settled, who is to go to Ireland, till after the holidays; but it is next to certain, that one or other of the House of Commons will, at all events, succeed to the Lord-Lieutenancy of that kingdom.

We hear, that by the returns received at the Admiralty, it appears, that 16,000 men were collected in the different ports of Great-Britain on Wednesday last, in consequence of the general press.

The above number of men, we are well informed, exceed, by pretty near a thousand, the largest collection that was made at any one time during the last war.

By some private letters lately received from Lisbon, we find the tone of the Prime Minister is already lowered one third. The bare mention of a fleet of English men of war in the Tagus, has done our mercantile interest in that kingdom more real service than two years fruitless negotiation.

D E C E M B E R 27.

Friday last a messenger was sent to Spain, with the ultimatum of our court. It was upon this ultimatum that Lord Weymouth resigned. He thought it too disgraceful.

The noble Lord who lately resigned, talks of impeaching the Ministry from facts, at this time, in his own hands.

The King of Prussia has declared, that if a war takes place between Spain and England, he will immediately march an army into the Spanish dominions in Italy: And we hear, the King of Sardinia has made a declaration of that nature.

It is said a great personage, expresses the utmost concern and dissatisfaction at the behaviour of two great assemblies to each other: What, said he, when he heard it, must foreign nations think of us?

An Evening paper of last night, has the following copy of a letter to Lord Chatham:

My Lord,

"Having for many years, been an admirer of your Lordship's great abilities in your country's cause, and having observed your Lordship's late representation of the state of the Navy so lately and safely contradicted, I beg leave to inform your Lordship of the following circumstance, which, in some measure, will corroborate what you have asserted.—Last Friday, Rear-Admiral Spyn arrived at this port, express from London, and immediately after hoisted his flag on board his Majesty's ship Trident, and observing there was no salute on the occasion, enquired into the cause; and was acquainted, There was not a gun on board any one ship of both squadrons, the Vice-Admiral's ship excepted, which had two, by way of giving signals.

I am, my Lord, with the greatest respect,

Your Lordship's most humble servant."

Plymouth, Dec. 18, 1776.

L O N D O N, D E C E M B E R 29.

It is supposed that the Charms of a certain Lady, have been long contending with the power of the Minister; Madame Barré has prevailed, and the Duke de Choiseul is disgraced.

The Duke's administration has been chiefly distinguished by the reduction of Corfica, and the strict discipline of the army, on which he piqued himself, and carried to a height which the French had never before reached. His late acts of severity, and exertions of arbitrary power, particularly with respect to the finances, had rendered him very unpopular.

It is one piece of comfort for us, in our present dreadful situation, said a grave old gentleman, on being told of the changes that had happened at the French court, that the affairs of France are likely to be under the direction of a Woman too.

When Mr. Pitt was Secretary of State, he was understood to be the Minister, or Premier.—Since Mr. Pitt's resignation, that honour, and that power, has altogether devolved on the First Lord of the Treasury.—It is now said that Lord North is to surrender up his high distinction, and, with it, its particular responsibility; and that the Earl of Rochford, as Secretary of State, has undertaken to support this arduous post, and be answerable for all its consequences, whether it is his lot to hold it in peace or war.

On Thursday Sir Charles Knowles, lately appointed Chief President of the Admiralty to the Empress of Russia, set out with his family for Peterburgh, by the way of Calais, to take on him that office.

As the King of Prussia was lately riding from Potsdam to Berlin, attended by one gentleman and one hussar, he perceived on a post, which was placed in the road, a paper written in large characters; he ordered the hussar to bring it to him, when he perceived it was a libel against himself and government, wherein he was accused, in the most indecent terms, of every crime human nature could be guilty of. The King showed it to the gentleman, and asked him what he thought of it? "Why, sire, said he, you should find out the author, and let him suffer the utmost rigour of the law." Pbs, pbs, says the King, here, hussar, put it in its place again; it will serve the poor author the trouble of writing another.

L O N D O N, J A N U A R Y 1.

The following extraordinary Anecdote is given us in a Speech, printed at Mr. Alderman Townsend's.—Speaking of the unconstitutional doctrines said to be crept into our courts of judicature, on Sir John Glynn's motion, the spirited Alderman expresses himself thus:—"But these points, however interesting, are not all. Many other circumstances crowd upon my mind. That I may not exhaust the patience of the house, I will only insist upon one, which in my opinion, is equivalent to a thousand. Ex uno disce omnes. I am afraid then that there is too great a vicinity between Westminster-Hall and St. James's. I suspect, and the people suspect, that their correspondence is too close and intimate. But why do I say it is suspected? It is a known avowed fact. A late judge, equally remarkable for his knowledge and integrity, was tampered with by administration. He was solicited to favour the crown in certain trials, which were then depending between it and the subject.—I hear some desiring me to name the judge. But there is no necessity for it. The fact is known to several members of this house, and if I do not speak truth, let those, who can, contradict me. I call upon them to rise, that the public may not be abused.—But all are silent, and can as little invalidate what I have said, as what I am going to say. This great, this honest judge, being thus solicited in vain, what was now to be done? What was the last resource of baffled justice? That was learned from a short conversation which passed between him and some friends a little before his death. The last and most powerful engine was applied. A letter was sent him directly from a great personage; but as he suspected it to contain something dishonourable, he sent it back unopened. Is not this a subject that deserves enquiry? Ought we not to trace out the adviser of such a daring step, and upon proper conviction to bring him to the block? The excellent person who was thus tempted to disgrace and perjure himself, and to betray and ruin his country, could not die in peace, till he had disclosed this scene of iniquity, and warned his fellow-citizens of their danger. Shall we then, who are appointed guardians of the people, not take his warning, and wake from that lethargy, with which we have been so long benumbed? He had no interest in communicating this intelligence. He saw himself on the brink of the vast ocean of eternity, on the eve of his journey to that undiscovered country, from whose bowels no traveller returns. Nothing therefore could animate his breast but that pure flame of patriotism, which had always directed his steps, and of which he had given so recent a proof. Ought not we then, even if we laugh at all patriotism, to believe in our own liberty and property? Yes, certainly; for let me tell you, neither are secure, if we do not immediately check all sympathy and fellow-feeling between the judges and the crown, and much more all undue influence and palpable corruption.

Extract of a letter from Paris, December 14.

"The last week in November, the parliament received an edict, by which his majesty commanded them to hold as a law of the state, the indispensable obligation all the sovereign courts are under, to proceed to the registering of the laws which he addresses to them; when the monarch, notwithstanding the remonstrances, persisted in enforcing the execution of his will. The chambers assembled on this occasion, and then adjourned to the 3d of December, as the parliament was expected to be fuller on that day.

"On Monday the chambers assembled, and deliberated on the edict. It was unanimously resolved, the first president should that day wait upon the King, and present to his majesty the most humble and respectful representations of his parliament, and beg that he would withdraw his edict.

"Commissaries were immediately appointed to draw up the representations, and the business was soon dispatched. The parliament sat from ten in the morning till four in the afternoon, and the first president set out for Versailles. After he had waited about half an hour, he was introduced to the King. His majesty, who was attended by the chancellor and the duke de Villiers only, listened to the representations, which lasted about a quarter of an hour, and returned the following answer.

"I did not cause my edict to be digested, without the most mature deliberation. Your representations contain nothing but declamations against persons who are worthy of the confidence I bestow them with; and tend only to raise ideas as false as they are injurious to my person. They shall not make me alter my mind. I order you to get it registered as early as to-morrow; and I charge you, Sir, to come here at seven o'clock in the evening, to give me an account of the execution of my orders."

All applications to the throne of France for honours and emoluments, are now, we are told, made to Madame Barré, and dispensed as she directs.

It is said that a messenger will be sent after Mr. Potter, to stop him from delivering his dispatches to the Spanish ministry, and with fresh directions for Mr. Harris's conduct; in consequence of the change in the affairs of France.

It is said in a letter from Spain, that the common people there are so averse to a war with Great-Britain, that it is the opinion of many of the grandees, the foldiers would sooner throw down their arms than use them in an attempt against the English, at the present time.

On account of the late change in the Ministry of France, it is said, that the negotiation that was depending with that court, will on our part, be entirely renewed on a different footing; so that the event is by that means alone, likely to remain for some months longer, uncertain.

An embargo, by his Excellency the Lord-Lieutenant, and the Privy-Council of Ireland, is laid upon the exportation of all Irish provisions, to any parts whatever, excepting to Great-Britain and the dominions thereto belonging.

CHARLES-TOWN, FEBRUARY 18.

On Saturday last His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor was pleased to give his Assent to an ORDINANCE appointing HENRY PERONNEAU and BENJAMIN DART, Esquires, Joint-Public Treasurers of this Province.

The principal Money-Lenders, Merchants, and other Inhabitants, have entered into an Agreement, which has been already signed by many, and there is no Doubt will soon be universally, to prevent the Exportation, and encourage the Importation, of the several Kinds of FOREIGN MILLED GOLD and SILVER COIN (of which this Province has heretofore been continually drained) by receiving the same in all Payments, at an advanced Rate.—In our next, we shall give a particular Account of the Species; what they should weigh; and what they will be received at in Currency: In the mean Time, we can inform our Readers, that Spanish milled Dollars now pass for 32s. 6d. Pistarines for 6s. 3d. Moidores weighing 6 Dwt. 10 Grains for £. 9 15s. Half-Joes weighing 9 Dwt. for £. 13 and Doubloons for £. 24; but, it is not agreed to receive unmilled Money at the same Rate, except Dollars or Coes weighing 37 1/2 wt. 8 Grains.

Mr. Peter Bonnetreau is appointed Register of St. Philip's Parish, Clerk to the Vestry, and also Clerk to the Commissioners of the Streets; in the Room of Mr. Eliza Peinfest, lately deceased.

Yesterday arrived here His Majesty's Packet-Boat the Swallow, commanded by Capt. Robert Thomson, in 7 Weeks and 3 Days from Palmyra.—By which we have Accounts of terrible Inundations, and great Devastation in Consequence thereof, in many Parts of Europe, particularly France, Holland, Germany, and even Italy.

The Papers by this Packet are full of Accounts of vast military Preparations by different Powers in Europe, all which, however, seem intended rather for Defence, except in Great-Britain, where, the extraordinary Manner in which they are carried on, puzzles the ablest Politicians, who are equally at a Loss to discover the Meaning or the End.—'Tis however very evident, that Trade in the mean Time languishes.

The Accounts relative to the unfriendly Disposition of the Corsicans, begin now to be more favourable than they were a few months ago; and Alexander Cameron, Esq; a Gentleman whose Honour and Veracity can be relied on, we are informed, is gone into the Nation, to enquire into the Foundation of the late Reports.

It is told, that no less than Six Hogheads of Raw Silk, duce of this Province, are now shipping on board a Vessel bound for London; and it is a Fact, that there are no less than six Hogheads of Tobacco, also the Produce of this Province, on board one Ship bound for Bristol.

For near a Week past, ordinary Firewood has been sold here at the enormous Rate of SEVEN POUNDS per Cord.

Quantity of Rice shipped from this Port since the 1st of November last, 59,806 Barrels.

A VERY valuable PLANTATION on Combabe River, about sixty Miles from Charles-Town, containing 1731 Acres of Land.—Five Hundred Acres of which are River Swamp; 240 Acres are Part of the Savanna, known by the Name of Green Savanna; 70 Acres are Tupelo Swamp, and the Remainder good Provision and Timber Land.—The River Swamp is allowed by good Judges to be equal in Quality to any in the Province. It may be flowed from the River every Spring Tide, and is entirely out of the Way of both the Freshets and Salts, being never affected by either. One Hundred and Seventy Acres of it are cleared; 125 of which are dammed in.—The Savanna and Tupelo Swamps, which are adjoining, are of an excellent Soil, and by Means of a large Canal, which has been dug for that Purpose, may be drained, and watered from the River; which renders them equal, if not superior, to River Swamp. There is every necessary and convenient Building on it, in particular, a large and commodious Barn and Machine-House just finished, built entirely of the best of Cypress, and about 200 Yards from a Landing, to which a Vessel of 200 Tons may lay her Side. As the Sale will be late in the Season, the Subscriber will have the Land prepared, the Provisions planted, and every Thing in the same Forwardness as he should for himself, in order to enable the Purchaser to plant the ensuing Crop.

A PLANTATION on James Island, containing six Hundred and Twenty-nine Acres of Land, situate on Stora River, at the Northern Extremity of the Island: The Land is equal to any on that Island, and is so well-known for its Pleasantness and Convenience to the Charles-Town Market, that it needs no Description.

AN ISLAND in Mithras-River, a little above Bennett's Point, consisting of six Hundred Acres of high Land, and several Thousand Acres of hard Marsh.—It is an excellent Range for Cattle, sufficient to maintain 5 or 600 Head: The high Land is also very good for Corn or Indigo, and has several good Landings on it.

FIFTY valuable SLAVES, amongst which are two Carpenters, two Coopers, a complete House Wench, a good Seamstress, Sawyers, Boatmen, handy Boys and Girls, &c.—Forty of them are Country born, and but four amongst the Whole whose Ages exceed Thirty-five Years.
